The California Native Plant Society (CNPS) is a statewide non-profit organization of amateurs and professionals with a common interest in California's native plants and the preservation of this rich resource for future generations. The Society, working through its local chapters, seeks to increase understanding of California's native flora through its various programs which include lectures, field trips, native plant sales, and publications. Our members have diverse interests including natural history, botany, ecology, conservation, photography, drawing, hiking, and gardening. Membership is open to all; additional information is available from CNPS, 1722 J Street, Suite 17, Sacramento, CA 95814. (916) 447-2677.
